MONEY MATTERS

Currency – The unit of currency is the Tanzania Shilling; however, you are advised to carry American Dollars. ATMs are readily available in major towns, although they are frequently out of service. We recommend travelling with US cash in a variety of denominations. US$ bills must be no more than 9 years old.

drums, jewelry, and Tanzanite. The Arusha Heritage Centre offers a large variety of souvenirs and crafts. Remember certain materials are not allowed back into the USA or Canada.

LOCAL CUSTOMS – In Zanzibar, Islamic practices and beliefs are particularly influential. Respect religious and social traditions in public areas, especially in Stone Town. Visitors should dress conservatively (e.g., women should cover their shoulders and refrain from wearing shorts).

US AND CANADIAN IMPORT REGULATIONS – The import of meat or meat products (dried, canned etc.), plants, seeds, vegetables, fruits, livestock, endangered wildlife species and products thereof (for example clothing and accessories) into the United States and Canada is prohibited. This includes Ostrich eggs and animal skins.

FLIGHT RECONFIRMATIONS AND CHECK-IN

– Please refer to your air-itinerary for guidelines. Always have electronics fully charged as you may be asked to activate them for security checks.

FINAL NOTES – No plastic bags are allowed in Tanzania – rather use re-usable, eco-friendly options. Ziplock bags (the type usually given for carrying smaller liquid items in carry-on luggage) are permitted as it is expected they will remain with the traveller and not to be disposed of within Tanzania.

Your safari offers a small glimpse of the diversity that is Africa. Some areas you visit will be quite poor by North American standards. Carry only small amounts of cash. Wherever you go it is advisable to lock cash, valuables and passports in hotel safes or leave them with camp managers.
